

The Book Of Colors

Red

Once upon a time there were three sisters who loved the clothes and specially a red dress. One day they fought over that red dress since there was the most important party, they were very angry, because the three of them wanted that dress. There were other dresses but the red was fancier than the others.

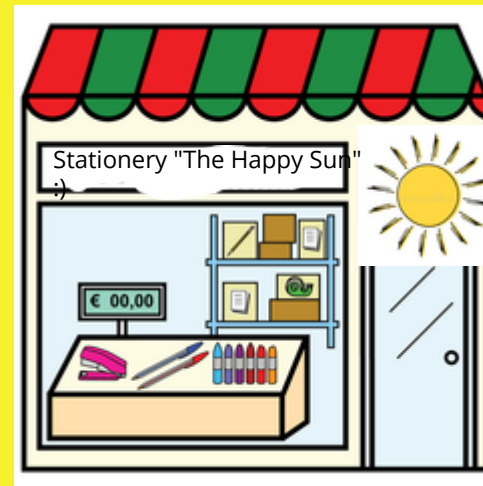

Orange

Once upon a time, there was an orange fish who wanted to ate the most delicious fruit, but there was no easy to get it, he haved to swam on all the ocean to found some fruit. Time later he found an orange but he didn't knew that the orange was of a dolphin, he didn't liked the dolphins and he thoughted that the dolphins were more danger than other animal. But he thoughted that if they were friends, the dolphin would shared her orange with he. And now they are the best friends

Yellow

Once upon a time there was a boy who needed a pencil to did his homework, he went to the most famous stationery in the street named "The Happy Sun" when he arrived he saw all the pencils costs and he decided to bought a yellow pencil because it was the cheapest pencil. When he came back home he did his homework faster than before

Green

Once upon a time there was a fairy "TinkerBell" who lived in the nature, she had the most beautiful green dress and she always had a big smile because she had a lot of animal friends that they helped her to did prettier houses than the other fairys. She had envious friends but that they talked she didn ´ t care

Blue

Once upon a time there was a blue pen that was the saddest in the world because he didn't have friends. He was walking in the street and he founded the funniest pencil, they started to talked and the pencil thinked that the pen was funnier than the others, so with the time they started to be friends

Purple

Once Upon A Time there was the prettiest girl in the city, she didn't liked the grapes, she thinked that the apples were more delicious than the grapes. But one day her friend started to ate grapes and she fell curious on what would it be their flavor, so she picked one and without knew it fell in love with the grapes.

Pink

Once upon a time there was a lot of pretty and soft flowers which lived in the forest, they were the most happy flowers but one day an ugly men started to build a big house to lived here. The flowers were very angry because there was their home, one flower started to talked to the men about the problem, everyone thought that the flower was more intelligent than the men. They arrival at a courteous treatment and everyone stay happy

White

Once upon a time there was a white dove which wanted that everyone lived in peace. Some animals dislikes the dove because she was the most pacific and pretty animal. She didn't care about they said but the other animals made a lot of jokes to the fishes too, it didn't likes to the dove , one day she defended the fishes and talked with the animals about their bad attituded. The animals understood and everyone became friends

Members

Sarai Sulvaran
Alexandre Melesio
Emiliano Galdamez
Natalia Ceja
Sofia Silva